Creative, committed, and open-minded, that's what comes to mind when I think of Laura. I was Laura's design mentor during her internship at Dot.vu, and she has crafted a number of creative artworks during her half a year in the production team. What really impressed me most about Laura, aside from her creative mind, is her ability to find solutions, strive to learn new softwares and experiment with visual ideas. Her delicate but spicy sense of humor, with well-timed one-liners, is quite contagious. Laura is the embodiment of a creative, warm, and easy-going person and will be a great asset to any company!
